SEN. DIETERICH QUITS RACE FOR RENOMINATION

Withdraws in Interest of "Party Harmony" He Announces

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Senator William H. Dieterich's withdrawal from the Democratic primary intensified the Igoe-Lucas battle today.

Abandoned by factional leaders, Dieterich "in the interest of party harmony" dropped out of the fight for his senate seat and left the field to his chief rivals—Congressman Scott W. Lucas, Governor Horner's standard bearer, and District Attorney Michael L. Igoe, choice of the Kelly-Nash Chicago organization.

"I have not finished with politics. I expect to continue active in the political affairs of my state and nation."

Whether he would play an active role in the rest of the April primary campaign and which slate he might favor, the Beardstown Democrat would not say.

The former state representative and Congressman-at-Large announced the withdrawal last night. The deadline is this afternoon.

Igoe Claims Support

Igoe's friends claimed the Chicagoan would get the support of most of the federal appointees who owed allegiance to the senator.

With Lucas left as the only downstate candidate, Horner men asserted the withdrawal made him the only rallying point for their claim that both senators should not be from Cook county.

Dieterich since the 1936 split has been at odds with Horner, who repudiated the senator's second term hopes last fall.

Until Thursday, when Igoe was endorsed, there was a chance that the incumbent might be backed by the Kelley-Nash faction.

Dieterich visited his Beardstown home, returned to Springfield and announced his retirement. Today he was scheduled to dedicate Rushville's new postoffice.

President Inactive

President Roosevelt, whose Supreme Court program Dieterich had supported, apparently took no hand in the Illinois Democratic row.

The withdrawal statement, expressing hope for selection of "loyal" candidates, said in part:

"Factional strife has developed to such an extent that I deem it my duty in the interest of party harmony to withdraw my name as a candidate."

"If I had determined to remain in the field it would have created another faction which to say the least would not be helpful to the Democratic party of this state. I therefore feel that it is my duty to eliminate myself and lessen the complications with which my party is confronted."

Five men are left in the Democratic senatorial race—Igoe, Lucas, Newton Jenkins of Chicago, Albert Lagerstedt of Chicago and John J. Sullivan of New Lenox.

HORNER PARTY BUSY

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 26.—(AP)—The Kelly-Nash political group in Chicago was the target of oratorical thrusts by members of the state Democratic ticket supported by Governor Horner, in opening their Peoria county campaign last night.

State Senator T. V. Smith of Chicago, running mate of Thomas O'Hern of Peoria, for U. S. Representative-at-Large, expressed faith in the Roosevelt administration and declared "I would rather go down to the dust of obscurity, unwept and ununged, than to accept office from the Chicago machine."

Horner was described by Louis E. Lewis of Christopher, candidate for state treasurer, as the only Chicago man who ever came downstate and won the hearts of the people. Lewis accused the Kelly-Nash organization of insincerity.

Adam Bloch of Chicago, who seeks re-election as state Supreme Court Clerk, said policies of the Kelly-Nash group were similar to those of the "Tammany Tiger."

"BOSSSES" ATTACKED

Lawrenceville, Ill., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Congressman Scott W. Lucas of Havana, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, told audiences at four southern Illinois towns last night that intra-party discord in this year's primary campaign was based on the same issues that split party ranks in the state two years ago.

Speaking at Effingham, Newton, Robinson and Lawrenceville, he declared "pent house bosses" of Chicago were intent upon giving both United States senatorships to that city.

Lucas leads a ticket supported by the forces favoring Governor Horner. His opponents in the primary are U. S. District Attorney Michael Igoe of Chicago and Newton Jenkins of Chicago.

In 25 Years

People Will Be Living in
"Magic Homes," Scientists say

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer

Many middle-class Americans will be living in "magic houses" 25 years from now.

But don't expect them, or their neighbors, to be gaga about it. For they took pretty much as a matter of course the transition from the cupola cutie and the bay-windowed behemoth of the Victorian era to the immeasurably more comely and livable house of 1938.

And you can count on U. S. home-lovers, already casually familiar with flip-of-the-finger conveniences to take in their stride the houses of 1963 with such miracles as:

Telephones that will take down the message whether or not anyone answers the phone.

Newspapers in the home.

A bedroom light that will go on automatically in the night when one gets out of bed—an important safety gadget since 39 per cent of all home fires occur in bedrooms.

An electric eye that will light the entrance to a house as one approaches it.

Concealed lighting, providing maximum "daylight" illumination night and day, and simultaneously flooding every room with health-giving rays.

Television offering home movies, baseball and football games and photo finishes of horse races. Perhaps a tabloid newspaper by radio or wire facsimile.

Chemically-treated air-conditioning which will kill germs in noise-deadened, vermin-proof, dust-free rooms.

Kitchens will go completely mechanical, and there will be a great increase in electrical devices for cooking on the dining room table. Water-softeners and moth-proof closets will be in common use.

Old Designs to Linger

There will be sundry versions of the elegant house of tomorrow. Architectural styles, exterior and interior construction materials, appliances and furnishings will come in a multiplicity of easily-assembled combinations. (Easier assembly of materials, experts say, is the key to lower-priced homes.)

Houses will have more flowing lines but many will incorporate graceful contours of classic design. Architectural seers are confident that American and French colonialists, the Georgian house, English and Cape Cod cottages still will be popular.

The trend will be toward smaller houses with maximum utilization of space and labor-saving arrangements. They will come in metals, in brick with steel supports, in fire-resistant wood with self-cleaning paint, in concrete with delicate mosaics in cinder blocks, in synthetic stone, in glass, and, possibly, in rubber.

Pre-fabricated houses will be built of metals, brick panels, plywood, plastics and various synthetic materials. Some occupants, moving from one town to another, will take their collapsible "prefabs" with them. The trailer-type home, of course, will be taken along on jaunts to woods, mountains and seashore.

It will not be fantastic to see combination glass-roofed affording miniature solariums in small houses. This offers a new use for attics. Special "below-basement" garages will be reached by elevators. Coming also are more basement gymnasiums and small swimming pools that can be covered when not in use.

Houses All On the Ground

Many experts believe that in suburban areas houses will be built on a ground-floor plane as far as possible. Living rooms will be shifted to the rear in many cases to escape street noises and provide a view of gardens.

Large wall sections will be devoted to windows, or to glass bricks which provide diffused light without loss of privacy. Plumbing lines will be fewer but more efficient than today's complicated setups.

Many appliances will be built into the house. Room-to-room communicating systems will be installed.

Some experts look for a large number of all-glass houses, the inside walls and partitions of which will be kept clean by the mere rub of a sponge. Floors, in winter, would be covered by a thick carpet of solid rubber made of removable squares to afford easy cleaning.

Water will be piped along the walls—to cool the house in summer and to clean the glass.

Authorities see a definite trend to planned large-scale production of single and multiple family homes for sale and rent. Limited dividend corporations will build entire residential sections providing for elaborate landscaping and freedom from traffic hazards.

Central management will insure neighborhood upkeep, recreational facilities and underground parking zones. Cities will encourage similar corporations to rehabilitate run-down residential neighborhoods.

Fastest elevators in tallest buildings travel about 10 miles an hour.

See what happens, in Raeburn Van Buren's comic strip, filled with real life and real laughter—

Illinois' Harvest of Death

The figures shown in each county on the accompanying map, which was prepared by the Illinois State Safety Commission, are the number of persons killed in motor vehicle accidents during the year 1937. The shaded portion shows how the death rate of each county compares with that of other counties in the state. The counties in black had the highest death rate on the basis of population ranging up to 144 persons killed per 100,000 while those not shaded have a better record ranging from 0 to 34.0 killed per 100,000 population.

From the record of the Illinois Division of Highways, the year's total of 2,504 was 134 more than in 1936 when 2,461 deaths were reported. Only one county escaped a fatal accident during 1937, namely, Pope county. Five counties had no change in their record over 1936: 46 had decreases aggregating 203 fatalities, while half of the counties or 51 had increases aggregating 337 fatalities.

The following counties decreased their record more than 50 percent during the year: Brown, Clark, DeWitt, Hancock, Hardin, Marshall, Massac, Monroe, Moultrie, Pope, Pulaski, Scott, Union and White. Although Marion county was the site of a bus catastrophe in which 22 persons were killed that helped to triple their deaths for the year, 9 counties had greater increases than Marion county; they are: Boone, Clay, Hamilton, Jefferson, Mason, McDonough, Richland, Washington and Wayne Bond county. Calhoun, Carroll, Christian, Cumberland, Edwards, Logan, Menard, Morgan, Piatt, Putnam and Woodford counties had increases of more than 10 percent over their last year's figure.

Scoutmaster Kenneth Abbott of troop 89, Scout Orval Gearhart and O. L. Gearhart formed a good-will party who were guests of honor at a civic banquet held in Princeton last evening at the Hotel Clark, sponsored by the Rotary and Lions clubs of that city and attended by 120 guests. Curtis Gleason, formerly of this city, was toastmaster of the evening. Dr. Highfield of Kewanee, chairman of the executive board of Indian Creek Council, was also a guest of honor.

Following the banquet, four reels of pictures of the National Jamboree were shown and these were explained by Scout Orval Gearhart who attended the national and international jamborees. He also displayed several articles of interest which he brought back from Holland where the international jamboree was held.

Scoutmaster Kenneth Abbott was called upon and gave a very interesting talk upon the subject of Scouting. He strongly urged civic leaders in Princeton to support the Scout program. He explained the principles and results to be obtained from the training of Boy Scouts and referred to the fine program in Troop 89 of this city.

At the present time Princeton has no council leadership but the Scout movement is being advanced by the cooperation of civic bodies in the interest of the boyhood of the community.

Co-operative Effort to Revive Business Life Started Today

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—A "non-partisan, patriotic cooperative effort" to give business new life was advocated at a meeting here of the Midwest Manufacturers' Associations, Inc., with representatives in 10 states.

The manufacturers said the success of their movement depended upon the elimination of fear and uncertainty, reduction of taxation through economy in government and adoption by the federal government of an "impartial attitude in dealing with problems relating to employment relations."

A statement by the group said the program was based on a survey of manufacturing industries in Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Iowa, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Kansas. Ninety per cent of these industries were described as "relatively small units."

The statement said the industries "with their operations substantially reduced and their reserves seriously depleted are looking into the future with uncertainty and apprehension."

Repeal of the capital gains and undistributed profits taxes was advocated. The group also called for an "immediate 50 per cent reduction in social security taxes."

The most disastrous defeat suffered by the Italians in the World War was inflicted by the Austrians at Caporetto.

Past Presidents Of Legion Group Enjoy Luncheon

The members of the Past Presidents' Parley, American Legion Auxiliary, held their annual luncheon Wednesday at 1 o'clock.

The delicious luncheon, capably prepared and served, was very much enjoyed by the seven members present. Mrs. Eliza Brand, who is spending the winter in California, was greatly missed; also Mrs. Ida Rosbrook, Minnie Miller and Clea Bunnell were unable to attend.

A short business meeting was held following the luncheon, at which time election of officers was held. All officers were retained for another year, and are as follows: Clara Traynor, chairman; Ida Rosbrook, chaplain; and Lila Wagner, secretary-treasurer.

The ladies are contributing $2 to Mrs. Roberts, school nurse, toward purchasing glasses for needy school children; also $5 to the Legion drum and bugle corps. It was voted to send cash to Norbury hospital at Jacksonville, with which to buy treats to help cheer the ex-service women confined there. There are 188 ex-service women at Norbury, and a like number at Hines; the number varies from time to time. The first thought of the past presidents of the Legion Auxiliary is the hospitalized women, whose courage and contribution to the World War will never be forgotten.

On March 21 the past presidents will hold a silver tea and quilt and rug display in G. A. R. hall. Articles made by hospitalized ex-service men will be for sale at this time, the proceeds to be turned over to the men who made the articles. This will be open to the public. Further particulars will be announced later.

OBITUARY

JACQUELINE ANN STEWARD
(Contributed)
Jacqueline Ann Steward, daughter of Boyd and Virginia Steward, was born in Dixon, Ill., Sept. 3, 1930, and died Feb. 20, 1938, at the home of her parents, following an illness of three weeks. By her innate refinement and sweet gentle manners, she endeared herself to playmates, friends and teachers. Her short school career will be remembered fondly by her teachers and classmates, for its ever present kindness and willingness to help.

In her home she will be greatly missed. The plucking of such a sweet flower leaves a gap, always a reminder of love and hope. Besides her grief-stricken parents, she leaves one brother, Robert Eugene, and one sister, Sabre Joan. She also leaves her grandmother, Mrs. Sabre Steward, of Dixon, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Kannady, Junction, Ill.; several aunts and uncles, grandparents and grand uncles.

Her funeral was held Tuesday, Feb. 22, at 2 P. M. at the Congregational church, Rev. Rawls officiating. The large attendance showed the esteem in which the little girl and her family were held. The floral tributes were very beautiful. The pallbearers were Robert Spielman, Robert Burris, Edward Fry and Herbert Knight.

Those attending from out-of-town were: Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Kannady, Mitchell and Junior Kannady, Mrs. James Crosley and Mrs. Raymond Crosley, Junction, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Spence, Anna, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. George Morey, Freeport, and Ross Morey of St. Louis, Mo.

The wind whispers a sad refrain. One unkindled with sorrow and pain. When a little child's passing, we note, Yet through the whispers, we deeply feel, Earth hath no sorrow, Heaven cannot heal.

PURDUE STARTS FINAL DRIVE FOR TITLE TONIGHT

Opposes Indiana At Bloomington, Seeks Undisputed Lead

Chicago, Feb. 26—(AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers start their drive for the Big Ten basketball championship tonight.

Ward Lambert's team will oppose Indiana on the Hoosier court at Bloomington. Victory for Purdue would send the club into undisputed leadership of the conference. Northwestern, tied with Purdue at seven victories and two defeats, is not scheduled for action until Monday night.

On a basis of comparative records, Purdue should win over the Hoosiers, who have annexed only three decisions in nine starts. The battle, however, will be a scrap from the opening game as have been many of the skirmishes between these rivals. On Monday night Purdue faces Chicago and will wind up the season March 5 against Northwestern at Evanston.

Minnesota, co-champions last season with Illinois, must continue its winning streak against Chicago on the Maroon court tonight to stay in the title-running. The Gophers, after losing three straight, have won their last six games. Defeat at the hands of Chicago's now-dangerous club virtually would eliminate the Gophers from the race. Chicago, after losing seven games, defeated Iowa and Illinois.

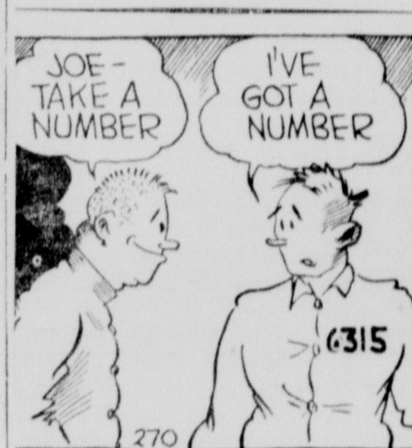

In the third contest scheduled for tonight, Michigan goes against Iowa at Iowa City. The Wolverines have lost four and won five to Iowa's record of five won and as many lost.

Soviet Threatens Retaliation For Detaining Ship

Tokyo, Feb. 26—(AP)—The foreign office disclosed today it had received a note from Russia which it said, threatened retaliation for the detention of a Soviet vessel.

The ship, a passenger liner, was anchored Monday in Hakodate harbor and forcibly boarded for investigation. The Soviet consul said the ship had sought haven from a snowstorm. Japanese said the vessel carried Russian naval officers and hydrographers.

Brain Twizzlers By PROF. J. D. FLINT

The fellow who invented numbers certainly contributed something to the world. Think of how often numbers take a part in everyday life. Sometimes seven and eleven are lucky while two, three and twelve are bad news. The mathematician says there is poetry in numbers while those expecting trouble say there is safety in numbers and yet, at times, three is a crowd. It goes on and on but can you find three different numbers between (not including) one and ten whose product equals three times their sum?

ILLINI INDOOR RELAY REVIVAL SET MARCH 5TH

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 26—The tradition of top-notch performances by star athletes in the 14 years of its history seems certain to be maintained when the University of Illinois indoor relay carnival will be reviewed March 5.

More than 400 picked athletes from 32 institutions will compete in the meet which will be held for the first time since 1931 after which it was given up on account of business conditions.

The vast university armory, with its six and three-quarters laps to the mile running track, will again be the scene of the classic competition, which was established in 1917 by Harry L. Gill, long Illinois' famous track coach. Leo T. Johnson, now track coach of the Illini, is its director with Everett Prosser student manager.

Four university relays will top the main program tonight, while the colleges will compete in three relays, mile, medley and two miles, in the afternoon. Both universities and colleges will compete in a special 320 yards high hurdles shuttle relay Saturday night.

One of the relay features is expected to be the mile team race which will bring together the star distance men of the middle-west. This event supplants the historic four miles race.

Brilliant Field
A brilliant field will compete in ten special events, 75 yards dash and high and low hurdles; high and broad jumps, 300 and 1000 yards runs; 1500 meter run; shot put and pole vault.

The traditional all-around championship, last won by Barney Berlinger of Pennsylvania, who holds the record of 6070 points, will again be a feature.

Reserved seats, which are now available for 75 cents, will admit to the night meet and also to the afternoon, while the rate for the afternoon alone is 40 cents.

The institutions which will be represented are as follows:

Butler, Chicago, DePaul, Drake, Illinois, Illinois Wesleyan, Indiana, Marquette, Michigan, Minnesota, Northwestern, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Purdue, Southern Illinois Normal (Carbondale), Southwestern (Memphis, Tenn.), Toledo, St. Louis, Washington.

Armour Tech, Augustana, Bradley, Eastern Teachers (Charleston), Grinnell, Illinois State Normal (Normal), Kansas State Teachers (Emporia), Kansas State Teachers (Pittsburg), Knox, Monmouth North Central (Naperville), Oklahoma A & M, State Teachers (Cape Girardeau, Mo.)

One of the factors which made the carnival popular was running off the main meet at night in the fast time of two hours and this schedule will be followed again. The program is as follows:

Saturday, 1 P. M.
All-around championship.
Preliminaries special events.
College relays — mile, medley, two miles.

Saturday, 7:30 P. M.
University relays, mile, two miles, medley, mile team race.
Special 320 yards shuttle hurdles relay.
Finals, special events.

Suspect Indicted In Disappearance Of Illinois Couples

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 26—(AP)—Indictment by a Federal grand jury of a suspect in the mysterious disappearance nearly three years ago of four Illinois tourists kept the case open today for further investigation.

The indictment, returned yesterday, charged James Sullivan, alias John Doe, with violation of the Dyer act in transporting the automobile of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heberer and Mr. and Mrs. George Lorus from New Mexico to Dallas, Texas, where it was found abandoned.

Several persons had reported seeing a sandy-haired, thin-faced man who gave the name of Sullivan driving the Heberer-Lorus automobile after two couples disappeared.

STORK DERBY MOTHER THROWN OUT OF COURT

Starts Swinging at Judge; Dissatisfied at Claims

Toronto, Feb. 26—(Canadian Press)—Belligerent Mrs. Lillian Kenny doesn't like the way the way the Ontario Supreme Court is handling her claims for a share of the Millar "stork Derby" fortune.

She emphasized her objections in court yesterday when she shouted "to hell with the judge" and started swinging at court attendants. They ejected her.

The 35-year-old claimant to a share in the $500,000 prize appeared in court while evidence was being taken as to whether stillborn children should be counted.

Her lawyer argued that stillborn children were children within the meaning of the vital statistics act. Mrs. Kenny created such a rum-pus by addressing remarks to persons around her that court officials asked her to leave. As she reached the corridor, she made her comment about the judge.

Terms of Will
Charles Vance Millar, in his will, bequeathed $500,000 to the Toronto mother registering the largest number of births in the 10 years after his death in 1926. But now it looks like the fortune will be divided among at least four mothers, and perhaps five or six will share in it.

With nine eligible children each, Mrs. Kathleen Nagle, Mrs. Annie Smith, Mrs. Isabel McLean and Mrs. Luck Timleck have been approved by Justice Middleton as winners. Their claims went unchallenged.

Mrs. Kenny and Mrs. Pauline Mae Clarke also claim eligibility. Mrs. Clarke has been asked to prove the legitimacy of five children.

VICE-PRESIDENT OF INVESTMENT HOUSE SUICIDES

Chicago, Feb. 26—(AP)—Horace C. Townner, 47, vice president of a La Salle street investment house until recently, was found shot to death last night in the firm's eighth-floor office.

He had been shot through the head, a .38 calibre pistol was found near the body. In the desk he formerly used was a note to his wife. Townner resigned from Lawrence Stern & Co., February 1 to accept a position at the board of trade. He was the son of the late Horace M. Townner of Corning, Iowa, former judge, congressman, and governor of Puerto Rico.

He was born in Corning, and attended the University of Iowa and George Washington University.

Police said the note read in part: "The insurance is all O. K. Be sure to follow the instructions in my previous memo as to taking it in income and not in a lump sum. The insurance will keep you and Kelly (a son) in comfort and decency. It is now obvious that I cannot give that to you in any other way. There is $10,000 for mother."

Although the air lines still depend chiefly upon their airmail contracts and passenger business for revenue, the air express business has taken on importance financially and is continuing to expand at a rapid rate.

SPEAKING OF ILLUSIONS ABOUT THE NEXT WAR

If the Japanese invasion of China and the Spanish civil war have left you any illusions about humanitarian rules in war, let recent, casually spoken remarks from Russia blow these illusions sky-high.

Said Commissar of War Klementi E. Voroshilov, explaining that the Red army was ready to use poison gas: "Because Fascist countries violated the 1925 convention on the use of gas in warfare, we were forced to train chemical troops.

"If the enemy spreads gas behind our frontiers, we will pour bucketsfull of poison gas on the heads of those gentlemen."

The commissar didn't raise his voice. He might have been talking about pouring paris green on potato bugs. And that is the way war will be. Army flyers with fine accuracy will bomb munition stations and shipyards. Recruited army flyers with less accuracy will bomb munition stations and shipyards—but will hit apartments and hospitals and schools three blocks away, for three blocks is a short distance when you're bombing from 10,000 feet.

There will be cries of "atrocities" and then there will be retaliation. And then there will be gas by the bucketful.

War isn't a simple contest between the strength of men and armies any more; it's a complex, jumbled puzzle where propaganda is as important as bullets and the front is anywhere that life exists.

Have no doubt that gas will be used in the next widespread war, for gas is a weapon, one of the deadliest, and gas is demoralizing, and that is reason enough.

Gas will be used with cause, for cause can be found. It will be as simple as false propaganda, as simple as touching a lever in an airplane 10,000 feet up, as simple as the wind which carries rolling clouds of death through city streets and country lanes. Gas will be used.

THE INTOLERABLE INCH

Just as if there weren't enough transitions in this changing world, what with governments gobbled up and illusions toppling, now the U. S. Bureau of Standards is going to divide the inch up into a million parts and lop off two of the parts.

Why? Well, it seems, to quote Dr. Lyman J. Briggs, director, the difference between the length of the inch in this country and in Great Britain is "intolerable."

That is, the U. S. inch is now 25.40005 millimeters and the bureau will lop off the 5 and make the inch measure exactly 25.4 millimeters. Of course this still doesn't bring the inch exactly down to scale with the British inch, which measures only 25.39996 millimeters, but presumably the difference of .00004 millimeter is tolerable, whereas a difference of .00009 millimeter isn't.

In these days of travail this is something different to worry about. Nothing is stable, nothing dependable, nothing constant. But Briggs says not to fret. Won't affect ordinary folks a bit, he declares.

SAVE HALF A BILLION

It's a little old-fashioned, this idea brought forward by A. R. Ellis, president of the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratories, that "saving of hundreds of millions annually would be made if consumers generally had the opportunity of taking advantage of the latest scientific developments."

Choosing just three products—hosiery, automobile tires, and coal—Ellis remarked that from 20 to 30 per cent of the nation's bill for those necessities could be saved by general use of new and improved products.

That saving, according to Ellis, would amount to approximately $428,000,000 a year in the United States. The saving and economy instincts haven't been greatly extolled virtues in the last few years. We've been too busy spending and consuming, so that others could have something to spend and likewise consume. We've been quick to "wear it out and buy another."

It does seem, though, that Ellis' appeal to take advantage of these newest scientific accomplishments to save nearly half a billion dollars a year would fit rather easily into the present scheme of things.

It's really simple. We could save that half billion and then spend it for something else. That's the way this country was built up in the first place.

TOURISTS PREFER PEACE

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that foreign tourists spent $295,000,000 in Canada last year while Canadian tourists spent $123,000,000 in other countries. Both these estimates represent generous gains over 1936, in every variety of touring. Travelers established new records at Canada's ocean ports, on railroad lines and in private automobiles. Motor tourists comprised the biggest group.

This is international trade of a profitable sort, stimulating industries at home and abroad, and giving the travelers a wholesome new slant on their own and other countries. It is a kind of foreign trade which some of the isolationist countries have seemed to encourage, but which they have really hampered to some extent by strict regulation of money and spending and the close scrutiny of visitors. They discourage it too, by their wars.

Americans avoid large areas of Europe and Asia, but they are going in far greater numbers than ever before to such peaceful areas as the Scandinavian countries, Canada and South America.

POSTAL PROBLEM

Most everyone admits the United States postal system is pretty wonderful, even if it isn't exactly solvent, but some of its hard and fast rules must cost Mr. Farley's department lots of business in time. Take the case of the New York business man.

He wanted, for business reasons, to send a ledger, cash book and check book to his auditor in Long Island. He wrapped these articles up in heavy paper, left the parcel unsealed and took it to the postoffice. There he told the clerk of the package's contents and was informed that because his bundle contained writing it would have to go first class. The postage would be $3.27.

The business man took his parcel over to the express company where a clerk sealed it for him, gave him a receipt, promised prompt delivery—all for the price of 41 cents.

The postoffice has to have rules, but it also, apparently, has competition on its hands.

BRIGHT SPOT

Contrary to the natural assumption that children of the country's poorer classes went through terrible privation during the depression, Dr. Albert Graeme Mitchell declares that children in the United States are better off physically because of the lean years. Dr. Mitchell is head of the Children's Research Foundation of Cincinnati, and explains this seeming paradox as follows:

"Poor children have had much better care during the last few years than at any other time during their lives. The spotlight has been focused upon their condition and society as a whole has come to their aid, bettering their circumstances more than their parents would ever have been able to do unaided."

Federal, state and local relief agencies, continued Dr. Mitchell, one of the country's leading experts on child disease, are assuring the nation of a harder race.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A fascinating pastime with Albert Edward Wiggam, B. Sc. Author of "THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea." (Bagehot). We hope this column you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1—
1 Both are right and both wrong. Some children who inherit extra bright minds but are sat upon, ridiculed as Smart Alecks, and picked on by older boys whom they associate with, because they are mentally older than average children, do take to petty crimes to exercise their active minds and passion for leadership and they thus become "master minds" in crime. But Mother Smith is right that bright children are better balanced, as a rule, and thus overcome adversity more than slow children and are more likely to become leading citizens.

Answer to Question No. 2—
2. Certainly. As Dr. H. D. Kitson says in his helpful book "I Find my Vocation," 75 per cent of a large group of women planned to enter office work or teaching. Probably the average. Among other vocations not so over-crowded, he lists: aviator, department store buyer, dress designer, editorial assistant, reporter, religious educator, illustrator, life insurance, interior decorator, beautician, dog breeding, photographer, X-ray technician, statistician, taxidermist, china painting, rug weaving, lamp-shade making and many others. Worth looking into, young ladies.

Answer to Question No. 3—
3. No, it is chiefly because they dislike to face reality. Few people enjoy sitting down and calculating precisely what they can spend for this and that. We all like to leave a wide margin for buying air castles. We don't often get a chance to buy one but, after all, the hope of purchasing one is perhaps the deepest reality in life. Seadlund Counsel Fights To Save Him From Electric Chair

Chicago, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Counsel for John Henry Seadlund, charged with the kidnapping of the slain Charles S. Ross, took new steps today to save him from the electric chair.
Attorneys Floyd E. Thompson and Frederic Burnham, who were appointed by the court to defend Seadlund, filed in U. S. District court a plea in abatement, seeking to quash the indictment, the abatement of the proceedings and the discharge of the defendant.
The plea attacked legality of the Federal grand jury which returned the indictment.
Assistant District Attorney Martin Ward said the plea was "not well grounded either in law or in fact", and said he would ask for its dismissal when Seadlund is arraigned before Judge John P. Barnes February 28.

Absentee Voters Must Apply Before March 14 Deadline

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Attorney General Otto Kerner has held an informal opinion that March 14 is the first day for filing applications for absentee voter ballots in the April primary.
The opinion was asked by State's Attorney Ivan J. Hutchins of Decatur, who pointed out that March 13, which should be the opening day of the filing period fixed by law, falls on Sunday. He asked whether the day should be made March 12 or 14. Kerner fixed the latter date, saying that the law does not specify exclusion of Sunday in regard to the initial filing day.

Dixon, Without Page, Upsets DeKalb N. C. I. Champions

LOCALS PLAY BEST GAME OF HOOP SEASON

Add Seventh Consecutive Win; Ready For Tourney

Victory Number Seven in a row, and the ever-growing conviction that the North Central conference basketball championship ought to rest in Dixon high school's halls, were recorded and impressed upon local followers here Friday night when Dixon's cagers thoroughly outplayed DeKalb's N. C. I. championship Barbs 34 to 23.

And this accomplishment was registered without the services of Dixon's ace guard, Earl Page, who was unable to play owing to an injury to his hip which may even keep him out of the regional tournament next week.

Wienman Fills the Bill
Coach L. E. Sharpe substituted in Page's place Alan Wienman, who accredited himself nobly and did a bang-up job in the position besides sinking two of the longest and prettiest shots seen on the local hardwood this winter. In fact the entire local team was hotter than a swing hand. The boys peppered the hoop from way out on the floor and in general so worried DeKalb's usually strong defense that it was drawn out enough to allow for several close-in shots in which role Ankeny and Eddie Callahan did their stuff to the tune of thirteen and eleven points respectively.

DeKalb was so befuddled in the first quarter at Dixon's long range fire that the Barbs called three time out periods to talk things over and to see if they couldn't slow Dixon down. Trailing 8 to 5 they had reason to fear. These tactics worked for only one more quarter however. Bevilacqua got a free throw in the second period when fouled by Ridolph and Wienman arched in one of his long shots to keep Dixon in an 11-7 lead at half time.

The third quarter continued with the Sharpshooters sometimes in as much as a ten point lead, but DeKalb's clever passing game kept the Barbs always close enough to be extremely dangerous, and but for the fact that they missed several very easy set-up shots they might have made things even more interesting for the Purple and White boys.

Dixon Gains 3 Points
The Dixonites gained three more points on DeKalb in the third quarter and then had things pretty much their own way thereafter as the enemy got desperate and as a result less effective in all departments. Ankeny proved almost a 1000 per cent shot on his free throws. He gave Dixon five of these out of six tries. Out of nine tries the entire evening Dixon completed eight which accounted heavily for the wide margin the locals attained over the smooth-working enemy team. The locals stalled in the last quarter which added to the misery of the Barbs.

As a result of winning their seventh straight victory the Sharpshooters ended the conference season in second place tied with Belvidere. DeKalb, the leader, ended up one game in the lead and with the title.

In the lightweight game Dixon inflicted an awful beating on DeKalb 31 to 5 and ended the conference campaign in a tie with Belvidere for the N. C. I. championship in the minor division.

St. Charles School For Boys Defeats Ashton High Five

(Telegraph Sports Service)
Ashton, Feb. 26.—In a post-season basketball game, St. Charles School for Boys cagers invaded Ashton's Mills-Petrie Memorial gymnasium and trimmed Ashton high, 43 to 31, Friday evening. In a preliminary encounter the Ashton freshmen defeated the Ashton grade school team 15 to 13.

The Green and Gold quint took a 7 to 6 lead over St. Charles in the first quarter but was held scoreless in the second period and trailed 15-7 at half time. Ashton rallied a little in the third period but was stopped by the visitors in the fourth period.

ARMSTRONG GOES TO MINNEAPOLIS AFTER VICTORY

Gives Chicago Sample Of Prowess By Beating Rightmire

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong, boss of the world's featherweights, moved on today to Minneapolis, the next stop on his busy schedule, leaving Chicago fight fans, 8,042 of them, with the impression that he is likely to hang on to his title for a long time.

Armstrong gave Chicago its first sample of his prowess last night by racking up a three-round technical knock-out triumph over Everett Rightmire, game Sioux City, Ia., youngster, in what was scheduled as a 10-round non-title fight. The crowd in the International amphitheater paid $18,040 gross. The triumph, the 33rd in 34 fights in which Armstrong's opponent failed to go the scheduled route, was accomplished, as predicted, without doubt at any stage. Charley Burns of Johnston, Pa., will be the champion's next opponent, Monday night.

Fought Courageously
Rightmire fought courageously—he even brought Hurricane Henry up short with a sudden onset midway of the second round—but his superior bawling ability availed him nothing in the end, against the perpetual-motion champion's punching power. The Iowa absorbed five crashing rights before he went down for the first of three trips to the floor in the third, took a second-count of nine from a savage left hook to the jaw, and was released from Armstrong's punishing blows when his seconds threw a towel into the ring after another blasting right. The time was 1:32 and the time-keeper had counted

Amboy Ready for Tournament

Amboy's Scarlets are ready for the first round of the Dixon regional tournament next Wednesday. The Scarlets, coached by William R. Welty, an Amboy man, have had an in and out season in the Rock River Valley conference but are not letting their record disturb any hopes they harbor of upsetting the Sharpshooters. From left to right they are: Bottom row: Blum, Missman, Litts, McGaw; middle row, Coach William Welty, Powers, Capt. Lynch, Stiel, Koesler, and Athletic Director James Daminetta; top row, Schneider, Mickey, Rosbrook and Griffith.

Rock River and G. R. V. C. Hoop News

Polo Wins Rock River Valley Loop Championship Outright as Oregon Loses Last Title.

(Telegraph Sports Service)
Polo Community high's Apolites won the undisputed Rock River Valley conference championship Friday night by defeating hapless Oregon 34 to 12 in the final conference game of the 1937-38 season.

Mr. Morris' Mounders took a firm hold on second place in conquering Morrison 39 to 27, and Rock Falls gathered some consolation for a rather in and out campaign by drubbing Amboy's Scarlets 29 to 15.

All the Rock River Valley teams immediately forgot the conference and turned their activities today toward preparation for the coming regional tournaments. Polo will enter the Oregon regional, and Rock Falls, Amboy, and Morrison will compete in the Dixon tournament both meets commencing Wednesday, March 2.

Only One Defeat
The Apolites ended their season with a record of eight victories and one defeat. Against Oregon they led 20 to 7 at half time after tying Oregon 5 to 5 in the first quarter. In the third period Oregon was held without a point, Polo increasing its lead to 28-7.

Rock Falls launched a third period drive to beat Amboy. The Scarlets held a 6-4 advantage in the first quarter and an 11 to 10 lead over Rock Falls at the half but in the third quarter Rock Falls outscored its foe 14 to 2 and thereafter had command.

The Mounders edged into a narrow 8 to 7 advantage over Morrison in the first quarter of their contest then cut loose with sixteen more for a 24 to 15 lead. Morrison came back strong with Wylder leading the attack in the third frame to outscore Mt. Morris 7 to 4, but the Mounders steeled and stopped Morrison's rally in the final frame.

to five when the bout was stopped. The Sioux City boxer kept the date with Armstrong's long victory string after having become ill in his dressing room. Plans for substituting Sammy Angott of Louisville, who won an eight-round decision over Everett Smington of Poplar Bluff, Mo., after the main event, were dropped when Dr. Frank Lagorio, Illinois state athletic commission physician, decided Rightmire was in shape to carry on.

Ginger Foran, red-headed Irish featherweight, won his fourth straight triumph in the United States by a six-round, technical knockout over Al Manriquez, Sioux City Mexican.

STEWART AND ROLLO ENTER DIXON MEET

Byron, Lee Center Finalists Go To Oregon

(Telegraph Sports Service)
Steward, Feb. 26.—For the second time this winter, Rollo and Steward will face each other in the finals of a basketball tournament.

Playing in the semi-finals of the district meet here Friday night, Rollo, G. R. V. C. champion, defeated Paw Paw 51 to 40, and Steward, runner-up in the G. R. V. C. tournament last December, downed Lee, 33 to 20. Rollo and Steward will play tonight for the district championship. Both of these teams won the right to enter the Dixon regional tournament next Wednesday by virtue of their entering the district meet as finalists.

Use Their Height
Against Lee last night Steward held a 16 to 6 lead, and took advantage of their great height to keep the ball out of the diminutive Lee players' reach. Rollo held a safe 25 to 17 half time lead over Paw Paw's Purple and Gold quint.

When Rollo and Steward played each other in the final game of the Green River Valley tournament at Franklin Grove last December, Rollo emerged with a 50 to 29 victory and on the basis of that triumph is a top-heavy favorite to repeat its conquest. If Rollo beats Steward, the Orangemen will enter the regional against Morrison of the Rock River Valley conference, Wednesday night, March 2. If Rollo loses, it will play Prophetstown of the Two Rivers conference, Thursday night, March 3. The same condition will be true if Steward wins or loses.

Following are the box score of Friday night's games which were played before a capacity house in the Steward high school gymnasium:

ONE CLOSE GAME
Franklin Grove, Feb. 26.—Byron and Lee Center survived the semi-final round of the district tourney here Friday night and won the right as finalists to enter the Oregon regional tournament Wednesday, March 2. The two will play for the district championship to-night at Kersten gymnasium here.

Lee Center eked out a close 18 to 16 victory over Leaf River in one of the best played games of the tournament. The score was tied 2 to 2 in the first quarter but Lee Center's Scarlet and Gray quint moved into an 11 to 8 half time advantage. Leaf River shaved this down to one point, 15 to 14, in the third quarter, but was unable to keep up the pace set by the fast Lee county school.

Byron had an easy time drubbing Harmon, 34 to 13. Grabbing

AMBOY POINTS FOR REGIONAL TOURNEY TILT

Promises To Give Dixon on Quintet Lively Game

Amboy Township high school sends its Scarlet-clad warriors into battle against Dixon in the first round of the regional tourney here at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, March 2, and from rumors emanating from Amboy, a record following of supporters will be on hand to cheer them on to victory.

Coach William Welty had his Scarlets limbering up for one of their practice sessions one afternoon this week when a couple of Telegraph representatives walked into the gymnasium to get a picture of the boys. Coach Welty isn't very optimistic about his chances of seeing Amboy win the tournament but he promises Dixon a lively evening.

Has 4 Lettermen
The Amboy mentor has seven seniors on his squad and four lettermen. L. Stiel, a senior, is not a letterman, and McGaw, Blum, and Koesler also are not lettermen, but Lynch, Powers, Rosebrook, and Mickey, a junior, and first stringers are veterans with letters. Coach Welty will lose them all.

He has a fine string of junior and sophomore talent coming up for next year's competition however. With Mickey as his nucleus Coach Welty can build a team from such improved players as Griffith, Missman, Litts, and White, juniors, Schneider, Keller and Berga as sophomores. Griffith, Missman, Litts, and Schneider are regulars on this year's squad.

Amboy's quint started strong this season by winning its first four games, dropped its fourth, then won its sixth and seventh. From that time on the Scarlets' fortunes sagged. The Lee county team ended up fifth in the Rock River Valley conference race. Only one game remains on the schedule, the encounter with Rock Falls tonight in Amboy.

Sometimes Upset Dope
Teams with unimpressive records have been known to spring the biggest surprises in tournament competition however. Amboy's followers are convinced the Scarlets are just such a team. If this is true, Dixon had better watch out for the season.

MOUNT MORRIS DOINGS

Happenings in Ogle County City Reported for The Telegraph by Mrs. Pauline Yoe.

By Pauline Yoe

Preliminary arrangements for staging the business men's league carnival scheduled for March 17-19 at the Community gym will be formulated at next Tuesday's meeting of the body at the Mt. Morris cafe. President Carroll Boston announced Thursday. All committee heads and other members are urged to attend the important session, which opens with dinner at 7 o'clock.

Chairmen of the various committees have been meeting weekly for the past month with the general committee, which has as its members President Boston, John Dohlan, Harry Schmucker and D. L. Toms, to work out the program and other details.

H. G. Hagemann, chairman of the important booth committee reports that spaces are already at a premium despite an increase in price over last year, and that wholesale houses are co-operating splendidly with their local retail outlets to provide attractive booths. With the carnival practically three weeks away, virtually all the choice locations have been taken.

At this early date the program committee, headed by Harry Schmucker, already have secured a variety of talent for the three nights. According to present plans Kraft Choral society of 65 voices from Freeport will headline the Friday night program, with the high school band and athletic carnival and home talent acts holding the spotlights Thursday and Saturday nights.

Music for dancing for all three nights will be furnished by Leroy Garmen's popular hill-billy band.

WOMAN'S CLUB MET

The literature department of the Mt. Morris Woman's club met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Donald Clark and read the play, "The Women," by Clara Boothe. This committee, comprised of Miss Nelle Bishop, chairman, Miss Thelma Mott, Mrs. M. C. Small and Mrs. E. Coffman, has planned three more meetings and club members who are interested in attending are requested to get in touch with some member of the committee. The next meeting will be held some time in March, the date, place and title of play to be read to be decided later. The others in attendance Wednesday night were Miss Charlotte Adams, Mrs. Louis Finch, Mrs. H. E. Coffman, Mrs. Joe Davis, Miss Beatrice Horton, Mrs. Donovan Mills and Mrs. Nellie Heim (Washington, D. C.).

BUSINESS TRANSACTION

A business transaction of interest occurred Wednesday when Harry Schmucker, who has operated a garage in the city for the past four years, purchased the Granada cafe on West Main street from Elgin Bucher. Mr. and Mrs. Schmucker will take over the business Tuesday. The Shell garage on East Main which Mr. Schmucker is vacating has been leased to the Cities Service Oil company by Charles Wishard, owner, and will be managed by Leroy Wakenight of Oregon.

KIMANIANS MET

Greater momentum is being gained at the passing of each Kiwanis meeting for the furtherance of plans which have been rapidly forming recently to assure not only motorists from our own community a new finished surfaced road south to Pines State park, but also to perpetuate a movement which in the course of the next two years it is hoped will provide a smoother and safer road foundation for some 100 farming families who must travel the route to reach the closest trade center. This was the thought and course for discussion on Wednesday night at the regular Kiwanis meeting held at Gable Inn, with 100 members and guests attending.

At the present time this proposed route south is scheduled for improvement by the highway department at Springfield if the road is classed as a secondary highway by the federal board of review. If the latter is declared and funds are available, work could start in 1940 after all authorizations are made. The construction handled in this case would be under the control of the federal government and financed out of funds allotted the state for improving secondary roads, the amount of which will be known after the present session of Congress issues the appropriation for this purpose.

If the road is declared not secondary one other alternative will be sought in getting a better surfacing, which will be through a county appropriation, the source of revenue for which will be derived from the state motor fuel gas tax. Among the out-of-town guests who spoke on road improvement were State Senator Charles Baker who assured the community full co-operation from the department at the state capitol office; State Representative Frank Wilson stressed the importance of considering the amount of funds needed to complete new roads and how previously built roads are still being carried on the state records as direct obligations to federal government in the form of bonds and accrued interest. He also stated that revenues derived from the state gas tax and auto license fees is not sufficient and that to even think of curtailing these sources by a reduction in price of gas and license tags would place a direct obligation upon each taxpayer. Representative Wilson said, "Personally, I am against reducing auto license fees," but did not commit himself on his stand as regards the gas tax reduction amendment.

That old roads must be maintained and rebuilt in many cases was explained by the speaker who showed that enormous costs of road upkeep for equipment, materials and labor are presenting new problems to the highway department and must be considered before new roads can be undertaken. Representative Wilson said that things do not look favorable at present for this route south of Mt. Morris to be termed as a secondary highway, but he promised full co-operation and the outcome will depend on federal appropriation of funds for the purpose.

Ogle County Supervisor of Highways Alex Anderson stated what could be done by the county if federal moneys were not allotted for construction. This money would be taken from the motor-fuel tax fund and at present we get $37,000 a year, Mr. Anderson said. The estimated cost of the proposed road would be between $30,000 and $40,000. He also cited that a better distribution of the gas tax should be made the counties of the state if it were possible, to base the amount to be received in Ogle county according to miles of road instead of basing it upon population as at present.

Others who spoke showing the enthusiasm of this community and vicinity were: Prof. Ira R. Hendrickson who reported on what could and what could not be done in building this new road according to a recent conference at Springfield (with several other men of this vicinity) with State Highway Chairman Lieberman. Mr. Hendrickson reported that all funds for road improvement were presently used and that nothing could be done until 1940 at the earliest, pending favorable action from the federal board of review.

J. Walker Robbins and Ed L. Stengel expressed the sentiments of Ogle county Farm Bureau and assured the whole-hearted co-operation of the farmers would be given and that the farming population would be the ones to receive the most benefit from the improvement.

Supervisor Jess Smith, president of the Mt. Morris Business Men's league, Carroll Boston and Pine Creek Township Supervisor Charles Coffman briefly covered the general consensus of people from the areas which they represented.

Mayor Otto Hudson explained that the north and south ends of McKendrie avenue would receive considerable improvement this coming year and that an adjoining southern continuation of this street to the Pines is what everyone hoped for within the next two years.

To conclude the meeting Francis L. Wallace, a young airplane pilot from the United Air Lines of Freeport and whose flying route lies between Denver and Salt Lake City, gave an address on the "Safety of Flying." Many experiences of the pilots, stewardesses and passengers were interestingly related by the young man who described in detail the maneuvers, tests and checks that are taken by the United States Air Lines to make flying safe.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Lawsuits through which creditors of two Samuel Insull investment trusts sought to recover collateral were wiped from court records today after Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson approved payment of $4,635,088 by Chicago and New York banks to trustees.

The money will be paid to trustees of Insull Utility Investments, Inc., once known as a $250,000, 100 investment trust, and the corporation securities company, known at one time as a $150,000,000 investment trust.

Creditors, in suits originally filed in October, 1932, sought to recover collateral held by banks for loans made to the two Insull companies. Five Chicago banks held approximately $15,000,000 and six New York banks, $16,000,000.

The settlement, approved by the court yesterday, climaxed a long legal fight between the banks and the creditors who sought to recover the collateral on the ground that it had been pledged improperly in violation of agreements.

By the settlement the banks were permitted to retain the collateral pledged for loans. All bank and other claims, excepting noteholder and debenture holder claims against the two investment trusts, were withdrawn.

EMBARRASSING MOMENT

Chicago, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Siqueland was to be honored at a stork shower, but when her 40 women guests arrived at her home, she had already been taken to a hospital. And what is embarrassing for the proud father-to-be, Fritz Siqueland? He substituted for the feast of honor, and blushing opened daintily wrapped shower gifts before the eyes of the amused women.

LITHUANIA IS CONSCIOUS OF FISHING TRADE

Three And A Half Million Pounds Caught Off Short Coast

Lithuania's coast line is short—only fifty-five miles—but off it the Baltic Sea swarms with herrings and other fish. Last year, Lithuanian fishermen caught approximately three and a half million pounds of fish. A new canning factory at Klaipeda (Memel) put some of the catch on foreign markets. To keep pace with the growing canning industry, the government has ordered a new motorized fishing fleet.

"Until recently, Lithuania ignored its fisheries, concentrating almost exclusively on agriculture," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society. "Three out of every four Lithuanians are farmers living in silver-gray houses on isolated farms or in forest-enclaved communities."

State-protected Elks
 "About half the Baltic Sea is a patchwork of fields of varied shades of green where rye, wheat, barley, oats, and potatoes thrive. Flax is an important crop, the country ranking among the foremost of the world's producers of the fibre."

"One-fifth of the total surface of the state is occupied by pastures and grain cultivation is gradually giving way to the more lucrative cattle-breeding, dairying, and poultry farming. Much of the butter, bacon, and eggs on English breakfast tables come from Lithuania. Its eggs are shipped as far as North Africa, while its butter even reaches the ice boxes in the United States."

"Another fifth of the country bristles with forests of pine, fir, and birch. Portions of them were ruthlessly cut over by Germans during the World War, but are being restored by a reforestation program. Exports of forest products to Great Britain and other countries form an important source of revenue. Herds of state-protected elks range the woodlands."

Amber Dug on Coast

"Lithuania looks not only to the sea for fish. Many rivers and 2,000 lakes teem with pike and bass. A large part of the country is drained by the River Nemunas and its tributaries. Because of shoals and rapids upstream, only the lower Nemunas is easily navigable. However, timber rafts manage to float down from the upper part of the river to the port of Klaipeda (Memel) near its mouth. More than a thousand vessels stop at Klaipeda in a year. Regular service is maintained with ports of Great Britain, Poland, and Latvia."

"The United States imported $1,172,000 worth of Lithuanian products in 1937, chiefly unbleached sulphide wood pulp, butter, hams, and caskins. Meanwhile American business men sold $510,750 worth of their goods to Lithuania. Lithuanians smoke American tobacco, eat American prunes and raisins, and use American coal tar dyes. They import heavily of American radio apparatus, automobiles, typewriters, type-setting machines, and machinery. From Great Britain they purchase coal, iron, fertilizers, cotton and woolen goods and machinery."

"Lack of coal and metals has somewhat retarded Lithuania's industrial growth. Industry, commerce, and communications, together employ only one-tenth of the people. The manufacture of articles from amber dug on the coast is one of the oldest of the country's industries. Making artificial silk is one of the newest."

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK

Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
POLLY CHELSEA, heroine: stranded in London when war breaks out.
JERRY WHITFIELD, hero: the Yankee who saves her through.
CABELL BANKS, privateer captain.

Yesterday: Arriving too late at Cherbourg to sail back to America, Jerry and Polly are married while they await Banks' plans to procure a ship of his own.

CHAPTER XXII

AT the end of a week Cabell Banks arrived at the hotel and asked to see "Monsieur Jeremiah Whitfield."

"Le voici!" said the innkeeper, and he pointed out Jerry just coming in at the door with his wife.

Cabell wrung Jerry's hand and kissed Polly on both cheeks to the intense pleasure of some native onlookers who had supposed all Americans to be cold and restrained. Jerry asked Cabell to come with them to their room, and presently the two men were deep in conversation at a window looking toward the harbor, while Polly sat across the room with her knitting.

Cabell said, "I've found the ship for us, Jerry! She's tied up at Carteret. We'd be able to get out of Carteret."

Jerry mentally located the little port 20 miles to the south. "We might get out of there all right. Yes, I think we could. What's the ship like?"

"A clipper. Built in Baltimore." Jerry's face fell. "New Englanders don't hold with those ships, Cabell. They're too flimsy." "They're the fastest things on water."

"I doubt if I could handle one. No, I don't believe I could bring one home right side up," Jerry declared.

Cabell hooted in disagreement. "My friend, I've been hearing things about you. There are a number of stranded American sailors in this port and some of them are from down Connecticut. They tell me you saved Captain Cobb's barkentine Eliza from the rocks in a hurricane on a trip around the Horn. You were just 20 at the time."

POLLY looked up quickly. There was so much Jerry had never told her. "How did you do it, Jerry?"

"It was just chance, you might say. It was the trip we lost our first mate in, a blow and our second mate from a fever. Cap'n Cobb was down in his bunk with a broken leg and I had to take charge. The bosun or the galley use."

cook could have done just as well, if they'd been put to it. Cap'n Cobb made me first mate after ward. But there are better and older sailors than me that've never had the chance."

"Maybe," Cabell agreed dryly. "Look out, or you'll get conceited over your modesty. . . . This clipper now . . ."

"What's wrong with her? What's she doing in a little port like Carteret? How long has she been rotting there?"

"She's been there only a couple of months and she's sound. Her captain died of a fever the day they put in there. Her owner's a Baltimore merchant who's financially pressed. He wants to sell her."

"That means he wants ready money. You could hardly get her on credit, I reckon?"

"I reckon not. But wait till you hear this! His agent's the same French banker here in Cherbourg my father transacts business with. Mr. Cabell Banks, senior, of Boston would want me to have the ship to get home in, and that he'd like me to have enough money advanced to outfit the clipper and pay the crew for five weeks. The chief expense will be a pair of long guns, properly mounted, but he'll stand for it. It's a perfect situation, friend Whitfield. Who're we to snipe at fate?"

"A Baltimore clipper's not safe, Banks. Those Marylanders are mad to build them. Too flimsy. Too fast . . ."

"Too flimsy, I grant you. But not too fast. Nothing could be too fast for us now. Do you realize, Jerry, we've got no right to fight the British till we get our commissions? If we tried it we'd be pirates instead of privateers. We've got to get home, and quick. We'll be a hare pursued by a hundred hounds, this crossing."

"You've convinced me," Jerry said. It had occurred to him that no ship could be too fast to get Polly home in. After they'd made America they could trade the thing for a stout New England craft that wouldn't topple in a gale or crush like an eggshell when fired on."

Department attention. After referring to the many differences between him and Chamberlain, Eden said:

"Within the last few weeks, upon one of the most important decisions of foreign policy which did not concern Italy at all, the difference was fundamental."

Officials here believe the retiring Foreign Minister was referring to the fact that Chamberlain had patched up a separate deal with the Japanese to protect Britain's great sphere of influence around Hongkong. In doing this he junked an informal agreement with the United States that in the Far East the two countries should pull together.

Eden opposed the separate deal with the Japanese on the ground that it destroyed a carefully nurtured Anglo-American understanding.

American Wives

State Department advisers who are in the Hull group report that most of the men around Chamberlain, following Eden's exit, are anti-American and pro-Japanese.

Some, such as R. E. Craggie, British Ambassador to Japan, are so pro-Japanese that during the last London naval negotiations, American officials finally decided it was wiser not to discuss with Craggie certain matters which they did not want to get back to the Japanese.

Mrs. Craggie, an American, daughter of the late Pleasant Stovall, editor of The Savannah, Ga., Press and Woodrow Wilson's Minister to Switzerland, is almost as anti-American as her husband. Seated beside Admiral William Standley, then Chief of Naval Operations, during the last London naval negotiations, she drawled: "Admiral, I really can't understand your countrymen."

"That," replied the Admiral, "is the first time I ever heard a remark like that from a girl from Georgia."

Long Cabinet Feud

Inside reports received here are that the Eden-Chamberlain row has been brewing for a long time and that the only thing preventing the break months before was Eden's tremendous political following. To most of the eleven million Britons who voted to sustain the League of Nations in Viscount Cecil's poll, he is the nation's No. 1 hero.

One early sign of a crack-up came with the appointment of Neville Henderson as British Ambassador to Germany. Eden opposed him, said he was too pro-Nazi. But Chamberlain appointed Henderson over the Foreign Minister's head. At a Berlin reception later, Henderson dropped a remark to the effect that the Austrians should not worry about being Nazified, to which the Austrian Ambassador, overhearing, took exception.

"Oh, don't worry," shot back the British Ambassador, "you'll soon be one of them."

The Cabinet rupture widened further when Viscount Halifax was sent on an unofficial mission to Berlin, behind Eden's back while he was attending the Nine Power Conference in Brussels.

More recently, Eden opposed any agreement with Mussolini on various grounds, one of them being that Il Duce's word was not worth the paper it was written on.

Officials belonging to the Hull group within the State Department generally believe that he is right. They predict that once Franco wins in Spain, Mussolini will form a virtual protectorate over Spain, gradually nullify the strength of Gibraltar, later control irrigation for the British Sudan by damming Lake Tsana in Ethiopia, continue sub-rosa incitation of Arabs in the British Far East, and generally keep on twisting the Lion's tail. For once you find the lion's growl has nothing behind it, twisting his tail becomes profitable and pleasant fun. (Copyright, 1938, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

OBITUARY

MRS. ANNA R. WEIGLE (Contributed)

Rev. P. H. Pscholz, pastor of the Nachusa Lutheran church, in conducting the funeral service of Anna Rebecca Weigle, life long resident of that community, delivered a very impressive sermon, and said:

Today, we are assembled as a committee of friends to pay public tribute of our respect to the bereaved family who mourn the loss of their mother, Mrs. Anna Rebecca Weigle. The deceased was born in Nachusa township June 16, 1867, the daughter of Samuel and Marie Hoff. Here she grew up to womanhood and spent her old age. Her training and education in early childhood reflected the best spirit of the age that blessed our country life 70 years ago. She was raised to fulfill the ideals of a fine wife and a good mother through hard labor and thoughtful economy. At the age of 18 she married Ephraim Weigle on Dec. 17, 1885. When as a bride, she and her husband set up a home, she assumed responsibilities that lasted until the day of her death on Monday evening, Feb. 21, 1938. Her married life could not have all been sunshine for 12 years ago her husband preceded her in death. Besides, she risked her life each time one of her four children were born, two girls and two boys, three still living and since grown to their respective manhood and womanhood. Their names are Dora E. Ash of Evanston, Ill., Carrie M. Clark of Richmond, Ill., Harry D. Weigle and John S. Weigle, both living in our midst. As a mother, Rebecca Weigle learned to spend long hours doing work, some work for her children that was never finished. Too because of that, she endeared herself greatly in the affection of her family. When day after day the same duties had to be done and cared for in the home, her connection in the Lutheran church was to her an inspiration, a comfort and a strength that served her faithfully in the care of her family. She became very efficient in the management of her home and children. Her house was always immaculate and in fine order. Those who were most closely associated with her as a neighbor, found her interested in all good work of the community.

For several years past, Rebecca Weigle was in very poor health, but her general good disposition did not change until a few days ago when death was a matter of a few long hours. Her passing from this community has cast a dark shadow over the bereaved family, and hereafter her counsel and fine fellowship will be greatly missed, not only by her family, but also by her closest friends.

She leaves to mourn besides her grown children, two sisters, Mrs. Susan E. Lease of Wesley, Iowa, Mrs. Minnie Group of Lansing, Mich., and one brother, John Hoff of Nachusa. Besides, she leaves to treasure her memory, four grandsons and one great grandson. Interment will be made at the close of this service in the nearby Emmert cemetery. It is the wish of the family that at this time their appreciation be extended to the friends and neighbors whose sympathy and thoughtfulness has greatly relieved the strains to which the mother's death has placed the family.

In closing it is requested that this poem be read in tribute to the departed, composed a few minutes before the mortal took on immortality by her nurse in waiting:

Our Mother Went to Sleep
(On watching an old lady die)
Fold your tired hands, mother dear,
You have been here many a year.
Three score, ten, the records say,
You've grown weary, worn and gray.
Summer went and winter came,
But to you 'twas all the same.
You were weary, you sought rest,
Softly, slowly, on your breast,
Those tired hands sank—oh do not weep,
Our mother went to sleep.

Roger Babson

ROGER W. BABSON

Roger W. Babson is probably the outstanding business and financial writer in North America today. His name is a household synonym for statistics. His life has sensitively reflected the old-fashioned New England teachings of his birthplace—Gloucester, Massachusetts. As a boy he was reared in an atmosphere of hard work and hustle—doing chores, working a truck garden, and selling his produce from house to house. Since that time, a business venture of any type has always afforded him the keenest enjoyment.

Upon graduating, in 1898, from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Roger Babson immediately turned to the business and financial side of engineering. He only by her family, but also by her closest friends.

She leaves to mourn besides her grown children, two sisters, Mrs. Susan E. Lease of Wesley, Iowa, Mrs. Minnie Group of Lansing, Mich., and one brother, John Hoff of Nachusa. Besides, she leaves to treasure her memory, four grandsons and one great grandson. Interment will be made at the close of this service in the nearby Emmert cemetery. specialized in statistics in the interest of protecting investments, health and property. His exertions, however, brought upon him one of the worst of maladies, tuberculosis. On the advice of his doctors, he and his young wife started for the West. "As good as dead!" said his friends, and they never expected to see him again—but he came back!

It was while he was convalescing in New England that he worked out some of the possibilities and problems of business statistics. So the Babson Statistical Organization, with twelve clients, was thus born and carried on by himself and one helper in a little cottage in Wellesley Hills. That was nearly thirty-five years ago. Today his weekly statistical and financial reports are read by thousands of business men every Monday morning and his research work is carried on by a staff of hundreds of workers. His outstanding achievement in the forecasting field was his uncanny calling of the turn in 1929.

Realizing the need of our young men to have more training in the fundamentals, and less in the frills, of business, Mr. Babson organized Babson Institute about fifteen years ago. This Institute, with its beautiful campus located at Babson Park, Massachusetts, is today a nationally known business school with a steadily growing enrollment. Believing that a business training of the same type was likewise essential for young women, Mr. Babson, eight years ago, organized Webster College—one semester in Boston and the other in Florida. The most recent educational development has been the establishment of a School for Positions. This unique activity is finding opportunities for large numbers of ambitious young men and women of character and ability.

As a lecturer on business problems, Mr. Babson is well-known throughout the United States and Canada. He has written some fifteen books, among which are "Business Barometers," "Investment Fundamentals," "Religion and Business," "What Is Success," "Finding A Job," "New Dilemma," and most recently his autobiography titled: "Actions and Reactions." He is actively interested in the American Statistical and American Economic Associations. He is a Fellow of the Royal Statistical Society of London, and holds an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the University of Florida.

Of unbounded energy, Roger W. Babson has probably done more than any other man to make statistics a live issue in business, to instill in business men a broader vision, and to publicize the causes and effects of the business cycle. An outstanding feature of Mr. Babson's philosophy has been his life-long insistence on the importance of spiritual assets. His life work may be summed up in these two quotations: "What we get out of life is simply a reaction from what we put into it" and "We cannot harm or help others without likewise harming or helping ourselves."

BOYS WANT TO BE CUBS SAYS SCOUT LEADER

That boys do want to be Cubs was evidenced yesterday afternoon when 29 boys of the South Central school registered in the Cub Pack being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association of that school. Following are the boys who registered: Alvin Adams, Louis Allwood, John Batchelder, Arthur Bonadurer, George Byerhoff, James Carpenter, Elbert Chase, Charles Christianson, Charles Elchenberger, Charles Emmert, Gene Feger, Bob Fred, Wilford Fordham, Gene Frey, Jack Hackett, James Jolly, Paul Kauffman, Billy Kirk, Gerald Massee, David Moore, Walter Origeson, Bobby Ryan, Donald Smith, Charles Sykes, Carl Wagner, Donald Walls, Herbert White, Walter White, and Royal Whiteblood.

Willard Moore is Cubmaster for the pack and Rev. C. L. Wagner is chairman of the troop committee. George Kauffman and A. H. Feger are also on the pack committee.

The following mothers were present at the meeting and are being trained in their part of the program: Mrs. E. B. Ryan, Mrs. E. Elchenberger, Mrs. Lee Carpenter, and Mrs. W. E. White. Dens will meet at the homes of Mrs. E. B. Ryan, Mrs. George Sykes and Mrs. W. E. White starting the second week of March. Other den mothers are being recruited and dens located. Den chiefs are also being recruited and trained so that as soon as the pack is ready for the den meetings leadership will be prepared to take them over.

The next meeting of the pack will be held in the gymnasium of the school at 3:30 Friday afternoon of next week. Boys of 9, 10 and 11 years of age who did not attend yesterday and want to join may do so on Friday. A few registration cards will be left with Mr. Hubbell, principal of the school.
